

Environmental management policy

Taylor Site Services Limited is committed to the positive management, control and reduction of the impacts that its operations may impose upon the local and global environment. To these ends, the company will continually improve its environmental management system and prevent pollution.

The company complies with all applicable legal requirements and those requirements imposed by its customers which relate to its environmental aspects. These include the requirements of ISO 14001 which are expressed within this environmental management system manual and the related procedures, including the setting and reviewing of environmental objectives and targets.

Tom Taylor, Managing Director
October 2010